VOTERS PANIC OVER MIX-UP

Residents wonder if they will receive poll cards in time

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

THE countdown to the local elections has begun but some residents across Pulman's Country have not yet received a polling card and have been left wondering if they will be able to cast their vote.

The parish and district council elections, along with the referendum on the alternative vote, takes place on Thursday, May 5th.

However, some residents across the area have contacted this newspaper to say that they haven't yet received their polling card.

A mix-up with the distribution of the cards has left many residents wondering if they will be able to cast their vote on Thursday, May 5th.

But East Devon District Council (EDDC) has confirmed that residents should still visit their nearest polling station on election night where they will be able to vote so long as they are a registered voter.

A spokesman for EDDC confirmed that the polling cards had all been sent out via Royal Mail on Monday, March 28th.

The spokesman added: "On Monday, March 28th, Royal Mail collected poll cards for all those on the electoral register and eligible to vote. If some [poll cards] haven't arrived then there may be a problem with delivery."

Despite the mix-up the spokesman is urging residents to check if they are on the electoral register and, if they are registered, they will still be able to vote without a polling card.

He added: "If anyone has concerns they should phone the Electoral Registration Office on 01395 517402 and we will check if they are on the register.

"You do not need a poll card to be able to vote at a polling station, so long as your name is on the electoral register."

Club assault help wanted

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to come forward following an assault at the Grove nightclub in Seaton.

The incident took place in the early hours of Sunday morning, April 10th, during a foam party that was taking place at the venue.

Police believe the incident took place on the same dance floor where the foam machine was situated.

As a result of the attack, a man sustained a serious cut to his head.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Honiton CID on 08452 777444 quoting crime number KN/11/123.

Wedding for primary kids

CHILDREN at Colyton Primary School will be holding their very own mock wedding on Thursday, April 28th — the day before the Royal Wedding.

The event is part of the youngsters' Religious Education studies at the primary school.

The wedding will take place at 10.30am at St Andrew's Church in Colyton.

Children have also been assigned specific roles including bridesmaids, best man, ushers, parents of the bride and groom and photographers.

The school is inviting residents from across Colyton to attend.

Time to remember Pat

THE Reece Strawbridge Centre in Colyton has taken delivery of a clock, which will start ticking on Wednesday, May 25th.

The clock was commissioned from the Shire Clock Company in Derbyshire and is finished in racing green with gold hands and numerals. It has been fully sponsored by Colyton Link in memorial to its former chairman and founder, Pat Goate, who passed away in 2009.

Pam Rattray and Miss Wendy Cann of Colyton Link visited the centre on Friday, April 15th to see the newly arrived clock, which is for the main elevation.

Reece Strawbridge project chairman Paul Arnott said: "We are delighted to be able to show Pat and Wendy the new clock at last."

"We hope it will be a valued timepiece for all users of the playing fields for many years to come."

"The trustees are immensely grateful to the help of Colyton Link in funding it."

Mr Arnott also announced that the clock would be officially started on Wednesday, May 25th at 3pm, when a plaque to Miss Goate will be unveiled. Everyone who would like to attend are very welcome to come and share a cup of tea.

Mr Arnott also announced that the lower floor youth centre will be open for use by the youth club from Thursday, April 28th.

Motorcycle cortege for tragic biker

THE funeral service of Axminster resident Chris Ackland, 23, was held on Wednesday, April 20th.

Mr Ackland was as a senior lifeguard and swimming instructor at Flamingo Pool, and had also qualified as a tattooist under Chris Williams at Chris's Tat Shack.

He was killed in a road accident on Wednesday, April 6th when his motorcycle collided with a lorry on the A35 near Honiton.

The funeral service was held at East Devon Crematorium, Whimble, and a motorcycle cortege, carrying the coffin in a sidecar, started in Axminster.

Town's crime down by half

POLICE in Honiton have recorded 36 offences between Monday, March 14th, and Monday, April 11th.

In the same period last year 77 offences had been recorded.

Nine of the crimes were burglary, four of which had taken place at Lace Walk.

PCSO Darren England reported that police were carrying out regular speed checks throughout the town. PCSO England added that there was no further information regarding the alleged armed raid at Rowcroft Close.

Serious injuries follow unclear circumstances

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@indlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster man has been discharged from hospital after suffering serious injuries in Exeter in unclear circumstances.

Joel Seward, 21, was found with facial injuries in Exwick, Exeter, in the early hours of Saturday, April 16th.

He has no recollection of what happened and police believe he was either attacked or hit by a car. A police spokesperson confirmed that Mr Seward was seen in central Exeter at about 2.40am before being found with facial injuries in Exwick at about 3.30am.

Mr Seward had suffered a broken jaw and other facial injuries.

He underwent surgery and his mother, Anne, said he was discharged from hospital on Tuesday, April 19th and is recovering at home.

The following day a police spokesperson said: "The circumstances of how the man received his injuries are still being investigated and the cause is still unclear."

Mr Seward is a keen cricketer and footballer, but will be out of action for at least six weeks.

His mother said: "He is going to need a lot of dental treatment."

Anne is keen to hear from any dentist in the area willing to make an assessment of the situation, and she can be contacted on 01297 34077.

Anyone who was in the Exeter area at the time and who may have made any observations which may relate to the incident is asked to call police on 08452 777 444. The incident log is number 183 of April 16th.

Police appeal after damage to parked car

POLICE in Honiton are appealing for information after a car was damaged while it was parked at a supermarket in the town.

A red Peugeot 107 was scratched down the driver's side. The incident took place in the Tesco car park between 1pm and 1.30pm on Friday, April 1st. Approximately £400 worth of damage was caused.

Police have a suspect in mind and it is believed the suspect was driving a small green hatchback type car, possibly a Nissan, bearing a registration similar to GF09 LFFZ.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to call Honiton police on 08452 777444 quoting crime number KH/1/235.

Fuel is taken from motors

POLICE in Honiton are appealing for information after a catalytic converter and diesel were stolen from vehicles parked at various sites in the town.

The first incident took place sometime between Thursday, April 14th, and Friday, April 15th, at the Heathpark Industrial Estate. A catalytic converter was cut from the exhaust pipe of a parked van.

More than £500 of diesel was stolen from cars parked at Dowell Street sometime between Sunday, April 17th, and Monday, April 18th.

Anyone with information should call Honiton police on 08452 777444.

VEHICLE DEALER AWAITS SENTENCE

Motor sales company director pleads guilty to a number of sales misdescription charges

By COURT REPORTER
orders@findlenews.co.uk

A MOTOR dealer is awaiting sentence after admitting a number of charges in relation to the supply of mis-described vehicles.

Company director Alex James Ward, 32, pleaded guilty to eight charges, five of which were on behalf of Axminster-based company Candlemine Shute Ltd, trading as Devon Trade Centre.

The case was heard at Exeter Crown Court, and brought by Devon County Council's Trading Standards Service under the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008.

The investigation was launched after Trading Standards received a number of complaints from customers.

In October 2009, a customer had purchased a Peugeot 306 from Devon Trade Centre after passing her driving test.

It displayed a number of serious faults soon after purchase and was found to have excessively worn rear suspension that rendered the vehicle in a dangerous and unroadworthy state.

In a separate complaint made to Trading Standards, another customer had bought a VW Passat from the company after seeing a web advertisement in January 2010.

This vehicle was described as having travelled 30,000 miles when in fact it had done in excess of 80,000 miles.

The customer was informed by the salesman before the sale that the low mileage was as a result of the vehicle being used by an elderly gentleman — but the court heard it had actually been owned by a 22-year-old man.

Another part of the investigation involved the sale of a Land Rover Freelander.

The vehicle was bought by a couple after they saw it advertised as being four-wheel drive.

The vehicle had also recently undergone an MOT test carried out by Devon Trade Centre.

But the court was told that the couple noticed a grinding noise coming from the brakes and a number of other faults quickly became apparent on the way home.

The vehicle was examined and found to have excessively worn brakes, and in addition, the prop shaft was missing, resulting in the vehicle only working in two-wheel drive. The vehicle was deemed to be in a dangerous and unroadworthy state when sold to the couple.

A preliminary search of the internet led the couple to discover a web review left by another customer who had viewed and almost purchased the same vehicle from Devon Trade Centre.

It transpired that the company had been previously informed of the missing prop shaft following an AA 'pre-purchase' inspection that took place on the company's forecourt.

The couple made a complaint to Trading Standards following their discovery.

In all three cases the company failed to rectify the complaints made to them before Trading Standards became involved.

The court also heard that in August 2009 the company was convicted of offences under the same legislation for using misleadingly low prices on vehicles offered for sale on its website and for failing to disclose the addition of an administration fee to customers.

The company has since given a court undertaking on the earlier matters under the Enterprise Act 2002.

Mr Ward was not a director of the company when the previous offences took place.

The case was adjourned until the end of May for sentencing.

New team on council board

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) has revealed its new management team.

Richard Cohen and Denise Lyon have joined the local authority as deputy chief executives. They will report to chief executive Mark Williams.

Former director Karime Hassan moved to Exeter City Council in February. Diccon Pearse leaves EDDC at the end of April and Peter Jeffs leaves the district council in May. The moves and appointments will mean EDDC's top officer team has been slimmed down from five to three.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "The new management team is structured to better meet the challenges facing EDDC in the coming months and years."

Build refusal recommended

PROPOSALS for a major development on land at Greytops Cooper Court, West Hill Road, West Hill, have been recommended for refusal.

East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Development Management Committee will meet on Tuesday, May 3rd to discuss an outline planning application which includes 22 retirement apartments and 16 dwellings.

EDDC planning officers have studied the application and are recommending refusal on a number of grounds.

Among other things, planners feel that the scheme is contrary to the West Hill Design Statement.

Search for missing diver launched

AN extensive search for a missing diver was launched off Lyme Regis on Thursday, April 21st.

The Coastguard received a call from a boat three nautical miles off Lyme Regis at about 5.30pm.

A Coastguard spokesperson said: "They reported that a diver had failed to surface after a 20-metre dive.

"His buddy had made a rapid ascent and was recovered to the dive support vessel before being put on oxygen.

"Despite an extensive and lengthy search by multiple rescue units the missing diver has not been located and the search was suspended due to the onset of darkness at approximately 9pm."

Tool centre's plea: Don't divide town

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Tool Centre has got involved in the Cloakham Lawn planning debate and disagrees "in the strongest of terms" with plans to call for a judicial review.

In a letter to Axminster Town Council, tool centre managing director Ian Styles also took a swipe at the "dangerous wilderness" of "strong competition, high wages and employment legislation", saying these factors mean you have to work smart when competing on the international stage.

The town council looks set to seek a judicial review of East Devon District Council's decision to grant Axminster Carpets outline planning permission for up to 400 dwellings and up to 12,000 sq ft of employment space at Cloakham Lawn.

A definite decision has not been taken but, after having taken legal advice, councillors agreed to seek the opinion of a barrister "with a view" to seek a judicial review.

In the letter to the town council, dated April 19th, Mr Styles wrote: "As a company, it is the first time we have felt the need to express our concern on any matter relating to the town but now write in the strongest of terms to voice our disagreement with the town council considering voting in favour of a judicial review.

"We, ourselves, now employ some 240 staff and have copied carpets' model of considerable investment backed by assets, namely land and housing, which secures our borrowing.

"From time to time these assets need to be realised so that they can enable us to invest in new buildings and technology.

"Axminster has a superb future, with Millwey Industrial Estate now bursting at the seams and a new generation of management driving companies such as Lowara, Air Control Installations, Arada Stoves, Axminster Carpets and ourselves.

"Mention should also be made of the many smaller businesses on the estate, all of which are flourishing. We all, as employers, recognise that a workforce which is able to live locally and walk to work become some of our most loyal and committed members of staff.

"In turn, they want to invest in Axminster and own their own homes in the town and as such we believe the Cloakham Lawn project is imperative to the continuing growth of Axminster into a large town which will then support the much-needed town centre development.

"Axminster Carpets has emerged from a dangerous wilderness of strong competition, high wages and employment legislation.

"All these factors which, when competing on the world stage for a share of the carpet supply, mean that you have to work smart and make investment into new technology which will lead to competitive pricing and long-term profitability.

"New technology in this sector does not come cheap and only by realising such a considerable asset by turning land into housing will it be able to move forward and make the investment to become competitive.

"Please do not divide the town with an unnecessary judicial review which appears to be driven against the town's foremost employer and investor."

Pulman's View asked Axminster Town Council for a comment and a number of other questions relating to the potential judicial review.

After having consulted mayor Ron Jones, town clerk Hilary Kirkcaldie issued a statement saying: "At the moment we do not have anything to add to the statement we issued on Monday [April 18th]."

The letter from Axminster Tool Centre is expected to be listed in the Correspondence section of the town council's next agenda.

Extra support offer to parents

PARENTS bringing up a disabled child in Honiton could benefit from extra support thanks to charity Relate Exeter and District.

Relate offers relationship support and counselling for couples and families.

Rebecca Wellaway, from Relate Exeter and District, said: "We understand that having a disabled child can put family relationships under strain. Couples caring for a disabled child are at greater risk of problems in their relationship and relationship breakdown, which is why we are so pleased to be able to offer a tailored support package to help people enjoy family life.

"When parents are stressed and under pressure, this can have a big impact on children, which is why it's so important that parents are able to access this bit of extra support."

Parents interested should contact 01392 275681 or email reception@xrelate.org.uk.

CHURCH BUZZING

FENITON Church has quickly re-established itself as a hive of activity after its recent re-opening following the 2008 flood.

The first coffee morning since the re-opening was held on Saturday, April 9th.

The new servery and the moveable pews allowed the layout of the church to be changed into café-style seating, which made the space very user-friendly and suitable for the occasion.

It was held in aid of Water Aid - the church's adopted Lent charity - and organiser Sheila Lanning said it was an appropriate charity not only in its own right but appropriate as the church had found itself with too much water whilst so many people find themselves with too little.

All the proceeds were given to the charity, amounting to £318.

A church spokesperson explained that it is intended to have charity coffee mornings every other month, to alternate with those run by the village hall.

The date for the next one is June 11th, and the charity will be Help for Heroes.

The spokesperson said: "The church building is now complete with versatile seating, improved heating and lighting, toilets, baby changing facilities - so it will now become another village resource. "Already an annual meeting of Church architects has been booked to take place in the church where the work of re-ordering can be viewed.

"Visitors to the church have also come from many parts of the diocese who wish to see what has been done and how their churches can be made adaptable for present day needs."

Luxury nests for our birds

EACH morning for the past week or so I have glanced at the telephone wires in front of the house in the hope of seeing at least one pair of swallows contemplating a summer nesting in the barn, but to no avail.

Where are they? I have seen only one pair in the village so far, and it is disturbing that, in the current spell of warm weather with plenty of insect life these annual visitors have yet to arrive. Three years ago I had five pairs nesting in the stable and barn, last year two pairs and this year...? However, I know that swallows and sand martins have been seen in reasonable numbers heading in over the Axe Estuary area so, hopefully, "my" birds will arrive shortly. A spring without swallows or the sound of a cuckoo would be disastrous.

Incidentally, a reader, Roz Wayne tells me that after grooming her two Labradors she places the hair in a fat feeder and birds, especially blue tits, take great beakfuls to line their nests. As Roz says, they must have luxurious nests! She also remarks on the presence of goldfinches and also has several greenfinches which have appeared after a long absence. In my garden, I have not seen a greenfinch for a couple of years, though there are plenty of goldfinches, blackbirds and sparrows.

Another reader, Jean Kreiseler, responsible for the Holyford Woods feature in David Walter's bi-monthly Axe Estuary Report (highly recommended!) reminds me that this year's Bluebell Day at Holyford Woods will be held on Saturday, April 30.

There will be free parking and a bus shuttle service from Colyton Grammar School. In addition there will be some stalls on the lawns of Horriferd Farm, while cream teas and refreshments will also be available. The bluebells in the 60 acres of woodland should provide a feast for the eyes and guided walks will enable visitors to enjoy this annual spectacle.

Dogs, I'm told, will be welcome, as long as they are under control. On my patch, the fine weather has encouraged bluebells to flower early, a fitting tribute to a countryside which is now fresh, green and moving into the finest part of the year, but hopefully the Holyford Wood bluebells will still be in full flower.

If swallows are still absent, so too are rabbits! Last year the fields round the house were moving with bunnies. Big 'uns, little 'uns, there were dozens to be seen every evening and I filled the freezer over the summer months, for I greatly enjoy a tasty rabbit stew.

This year, I have seen two rabbits and there are no fresh runs in the grass or droppings. There has been no sign of the dreaded myxomatosis so I can only conclude that the bitter winter caused heavy mortality.

Have any readers also noticed a lack of rabbits in their areas? I have seen a few young rabbits in the Marshwood Vale area, but find the sudden dramatic loss of bunnies here puzzling.

Finally, reader Alison Tottenham tells me that the World Wildlife Fund (WWF) is seeking sponsors for the remaining 35 Amur leopards which are left in the wild. The cats exist in a 5,000 sq km forested region between Vladivostok and the Chinese border. Their numbers have been reduced by logging and over-hunting of their prey, roe and sika deer.

Sponsorship will help the WWF to conserve forestry and their habitat, and also to stop poaching for skins and so-called medicine from body parts. If you feel you can help go to www.protectaleopard.com. As a reward for any sponsorship help WWF is offering an Amur leopard toy and adoption pack and regular updates.

■ AFTER writing this column, I am pleased to announce the first swallows have arrived!

OVERWHELMING RESPONSE FROM EXPERTS

◆ NICK Hall is on the lookout for businesses to be featured in the Our Local Expert guide

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

AN east Devon business guide has been delivered to hundreds of homes throughout the past couple of weeks and now the man behind the guide is looking for more businesses to be included in the next edition.

Nick Hall first produced the Our Local Expert guide in 2007 and since then it has grown to list more than 200 businesses and is delivered to more than 35,000 homes.

Mr Hall said: "I've been overwhelmed by the response. Businesses are jumping at the chance to feature and I'm always hearing from people how useful they find the guide when they are looking for trustworthy tradespeople or quality local produce."

"Our Local Expert only promotes businesses which have been recommended to us by the public. We act on their feedback and exclude any businesses we don't have complete confidence in."

Now Mr Hall is urging members of the public to nominate businesses that could feature in the next edition of Our Local Expert.

To nominate a business contact 01395 513869 or email nick@ourlocalexpert.co.uk.

Carpets' charity team gives theatre bar £100 cash boost

THE charity team at Axminster Carpets has donated £100 towards bar area room improvements at Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis.

With new blinds to hide the bar area, the room can be used more easily for a variety of uses.

The first group to benefit has been Lyme Youth Theatre's beginners' group which meets in the space on Saturday mornings for a drama and storytelling class.

John Bartholomew, chair of LymeArts Community Trust, thanked Josh Dutfield, the MD of Axminster Carpets.

He said: "Engaging the support of local, corporate sponsors in the future of the theatre is very important to us."

Enterprise group has locals at heart

HEART of the South West Local Enterprise Partnership has been approved by ministers and is one of more than 30 partnerships created since the Government's Local Growth

White Paper published in October 2010.

Its aim is to promote economic development and private sector job growth. Acting chair of the partnership, Jeremy Filmer-Bennett, said: "With this partnership we are intent on achieving the best we can for everyone, across Devon, Plymouth, Somerset and Torbay." The next step is to discuss the establishment of a formal board.

Monthly lunch

A TOTAL of 50 members and visitors attended the April meeting when Alan Cooper and Don Waterhouse from Axminster Rotary Club gave an interesting talk on their project ShelterBox which was started by a Rotarian from Helston in 2000.

They erected the protection tent and showed the contents that go into the box having contributed many packs to the world disasters. It's mainly organised by volunteers. Christine Massey gave the vote of thanks.

The monthly luncheon held at different venues are well supported. These lunches are organised by Thelma. The flower of the month was won by Irene Maynard and Georgette Jameson and the raffle by Vi Dawson and Julie Spiller. The competition for a spring posy as won by Mary Martin with Julie Reece second and Jill Leonard third.

The tea hostesses were Susan Hyde, Christine Massey, Anne Williams and Marilyn Wright.

Pearl lesson

THE Honiton Afternoon Women's Institute April meeting was held at The Methodist Church, with Maureen Doidge presiding.

The president thanked all members for their hard work for the group meeting of which we were the hosts.

Due to unforeseen circumstances Brian Godfrey was unable to speak on Spring Tubs but Francis Watson stepped in to talk on Mother of Pearl which was so very interesting and enjoyed by all.

Ten members were among the 1,200 ladies present at the Spring Council Meeting which was held at Torquay. The main speaker was Adam Henson from Countryfile who spoke about the work on his farm.

◆ CELEBRATIONS for Catenians' 40th birthday

Catenians celebrate group's 40th

MEMBERS of Axminster Catenians recently celebrated the group's 40th birthday at Lyme Regis Golf Club.

The evening started with mass at SS Michael and George, Lyme Regis, celebrated by Father Richard Meyer. Nearly 100 members, wives and widows attended the celebrations.

It was very fitting that the sole remaining founding member, Ronnie Coatsworth, was presented with his 40th-year scroll to mark the birthday occasion.

Members all enjoyed themselves at the special celebration.

All members join to arrange special April meeting

THE April meeting of Musbury and Whitford Women's Institute took place at Whitford Village Hall.

The evening was special as it had been arranged by all the members, and we were extremely lucky to be joined by three new members, who helped with everything, especially Carole.

It was a very successful evening, president was Jackie and secretary was Jan.

Apologies were taken and birthday posies given out, Jane, Amanda and Jan had organised six games, sight, feel, taste and so on.

After three games there was a break for refreshments.

The food was really good, again prepared by all the members, and it went down very well, including individual jellies and cup cakes.

The group then proceeded with the remaining three games.

The committee were thanked for their hard work for every other month.

Lesley thanked the organisers for their efforts. The ladies were very pleased to welcome Janis and Ngaire, as they have both been so ill.

The group's best wishes go to Anne and Eve who are both under the weather.

The next meeting is at Whitford Village Hall on Tuesday, May 10th at 7.30pm, when it will be the resolutions and bring and buy plant stall.

Ladies enjoy busy agenda

BEER Women's Institute members enjoyed a busy and varied few weeks.

Twenty-six members attended the birthday party held at Steamers. The meal was excellent as was the lunch at the Congregational Hall.

There was a trip to the Northcott Theatre to see Lilies of the Field. As part of the food, craft and skills itinerary, members enjoyed a lunch and talk at Clyst St George on Madame Tussauds.

Singing at Colyton in preparation for the May concert, cards and the creative writing group continues to meet regularly.

The next meeting to be held on May 4th and will be a social with discussion on resolutions.

Please bring a plate of food to share. New members are always very welcome. Contact Sue Ball on 01297 20014.

Fast business

THORNCOMBE Women's Institute's April meeting was well attended with the business part being conducted orderly but fairly quickly.

With the committee chosen and Julia Snellock elected president for a further year the agenda was completed.

The resolution chosen for the forthcoming year was the campaign against proposed mega farms.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, May 10th at 7.30pm when Tony Ford will give a talk entitled The Future of Charity and the competition is a travel photograph.

New members and visitors are welcome.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE minds of many as this appears will be on the Easter festival and what it means to Christians and our churches.

At this time even the national as well as local press find something religious to write about. On this occasion it concerns the divergence of views reflected in the four main gospels as to exactly which day of Holy Week did Jesus and his disciples meet at the Last Supper.

For centuries this has been marked on Maundy Thursday, but there is a theory that this took place on the Wednesday based on studies by Professor Sir Colin Humphries in a new book The Mystery of the Last Supper.

This discussion has greater interest in view of our moveable date for Easter. If the Easter Act 1928 had been passed, there would be no such discussion, as Easter would have been fixed for the first Sunday in April. Some feel this could be better for general life, especially schools and churches.

So, to the Royal Wedding — being confirmed is part of her journey to faith, sources close to Kate Middleton have revealed. The ceremony was carried out recently by Bishop of London Rt Revd Richard Chartres, in a private service at St James's Palace. There is more to come. For when she becomes a member of the royal family, frequent church services will be a part of her life. One day, her husband will take on the weighty role of Supreme Governor of the Church of England.

To bring us back to local events, Liz Lynn said: "Over-indulged on Easter eggs after the privations of Lent? Then here is the perfect opportunity to help you reconnect to the real world. On April 27th at 7.30pm an excellent speaker from Christian Aid, Laura McAdam, will be tackling the subject of Christian Aid at a meeting at St Mary's School, Lyme Road, Axminster.

"The talk has been organised by Axminster Churches Together. Laura is happy to answer all our questions in the run-up to this year's Christian Aid Week which starts on May 15th. Did you know for instance that Christian Aid is involved in lobbying against tax avoidance and secret tax havens?"

"Did you know that in 2009-10, 83 per cent of their income was spent on charitable activities, the balance covering fundraising and governance? Did you know that Christian Aid is the only national organisation that can still field an army of people willing to collect from door to door? Do come along and find out more. Everyone welcome."

To get a fair balance between the main UK churches The Times newspaper has chosen Holy Week to produce a supplement each day devoted to the main churches, under the general heading Christians. First came the Anglican Communion and then followed The Roman Catholic Church, and next to come are The Eastern Orthodox Churches.

'Outsider' shows how little of plan is known

EDITOR — So far I have kept quiet on the Tesco matter but the letter from Ray Mugford of Payhembury shows how little outsiders know about Seaton Town Council's reaction to the supermarket on our floodplain.

I had already left the council before the Liatris/Tesco plans came in — they both have the same designer and much of the vast amount of paperwork which came with their applications has exactly the same wording and section numbers, so there is very little difference in them apart from bringing the 'infill' by sea.

I was, however, chairman of Seaton Town Council when the question of 'regeneration' first came up and our council discovered that all the other authorities — DCC, EDDC, the Community Council of Devon and the Regional Development Agency — were making plans for Seaton without informing the town council of their intentions.

This was in 1995 and led to the public meeting in the town hall which I chaired on January 22nd 1996 and was attended by some 500 people.

At the end of that year the Seaton Regeneration Report was published, a document hailed by all.

It was co-ordinated by the Community Council of Devon with the help of over 1,000 local residents, divided into seven groups covering the themes of Tourism, Business, Environment (two groups - Built and Natural), Education, Transport and Leisure. The research also included a very popular planning for real exercise.

Every application to build on the floodplain site has been refused by the town council, precisely for the reasons which are now becoming apparent.

EDDC, however, think they know what's best for Seaton and, since Tesco is already working on the site, we have to accept its presence and hope our worst fears will not materialise.

As one who directly overlooks the site I regret the change in the topography of Seaton.

It would have made a fantastic water park — which could have brought in many tourists — with room for other leisure facilities, including an upgraded holiday village, but no-one apart from Tesco has the money available.

It is no good regretting the loss of the Sainsbury's plans which would have given us an enhanced tramway station, a visitor centre we could have been proud of, also the cycle hub we still need to cater for the long-distance cyclists on Sustrans routes 2 (Dover/Plymouth) and 33 (Weston-super-Mare/Seaton).

I agree with everything which has been said and written about the lack of transport infrastructure — this should have been in place before any other work was carried out.

I do, however, resent the idea that Seaton people and its town council foisted regeneration on the surrounding villages.

We did everything in our power to resist it — unfortunately EDDC hold the whip hand.

Whether we like it or not, Tesco is now here to stay and we can only hope for the best.

Barbara Dearden-Potter
Seaton

Vote for say

EDITOR — Mr Coates of Seaton is quite right, the EDDC planning committee should be sacked. We can do this by voting on May 5th for candidates who are not standing for the Conservative party.

In addition to the excellent points made in the letter we now have an application by Tesco to bring quarried construction material along the A3052 from Exeter and the A358 from Kilmington which will again affect Axmouth.

The first route will now affect everyone in Colyford as it is proposed that a one way system should be used.

Trucks coming from Exeter will proceed through the village and turn into Coly Road at the post office and then to the Seaton site, they will return via Seaton Down Hill to rejoin the A3052.

These proposals can be viewed on the EDDC website. If you go to the planning section of the EDDC website, click 'planning applications online'. Then enter 09/0019/MFUL and 'search'. Go to documents and click on 'view associated documents'.

Of course after the elections if everyone uses their powers to vote the planning committee could be completely different.

Lastly, can I add that this development together with the proposed housing already under construction at Sidmouth, shows a complete lack of understanding about why it is necessary to improve the infrastructure. The A3052 can barely cope with the present volume of traffic, these developments will only make things worse.

It's nonsense

EDITOR — Opponents of the AV voting system argue that it allows some people to have more votes than others.

This argument is complete nonsense and I can't understand why no-one has thought to give the counter-argument.

Anyone whose first vote is the only one that is counted should be delighted — it means that the person he or she wanted as MP is elected.

Anyone whose second choice is called into play should be slightly disappointed — it means that his or her first choice will not be the MP, but at least the second choice is elected.

Anyone whose third, fourth or more choice is called into play should be extremely disappointed — it means that someone well down his or her list is elected.

People who have only one vote taken into account are the fortunate ones — they have an MP who was their first choice.

Thanks for generous help with campaign

EDITOR — Following the recent decision by East Devon District Council to approve an application to build 12 houses on the former school playing field in Court Lane, Seaton, I would like to thank the many residents of Seaton and beyond for their support to safeguard this field as a community open space.

This campaign had been going on for almost ten years, yet the committed interest of the residents remained strong.

I remember attending the annual meeting of the Seaton Development Trust in 2001 and a member of the public expressing his concern about the future of the former school playing field to Kate Little, head of planning services at East Devon District Council, who was attending the meeting.

She suggested that if this field meant so much to the community then we should "make our views known during the consultation stages of the Local Plan, as it would make a difference."

Clearly many of us did just that — far more for Court Lane than for any other open space in east Devon. Even the planning inspector noted this in 2003 and mentioned it in his report that refused an appeal by the applicant over the non determination of a planning application they had submitted. However, it seems that those words of guidance were not enough.

One wonders what impact the public's comments will have in shaping the Local Development Framework document?

Seaton Town Council, together with a number of our ward district councillors, particularly Margaret Rogers, all showed a lot of support to this campaign and helped 'fight our corner' during the local plan process.

These parties, together with our former MP, Hugo Swire, also wrote to the site's owner about their future intention for it.

Yet, as confirmed in more recent correspondence submitted for the planning application, none of these letters were ever replied to, let alone acknowledged.

Putting aside politics — of which I have no support for any particular one party — these individuals all fought for Seaton on something that meant a lot to us, for which I am very grateful.

Now, a month after the planning application was approved, I still feel both disappointment and angry at how our efforts have been 'ignored' by East Devon District Council.

Also, some of us have felt the contempt shown by both the applicant and some of the residents of St Clares Close towards our efforts to safeguard this field as a community open space.

Despite documented evidence showing that this field had been used by Seaton residents for a period of 60 years, residents of St Clares Close moved into their new homes in 2002 and were then most vocal in not wanting a green open space behind their homes.

This is very sad for those residents who had previously enjoyed the amenity value of the field.

For those residents who remember this site as their former school playing field whilst attending Seaton Primary School — we may have lost a piece of history but at least we still have some good memories.

Nobody can take that away from us. Again, thank you to those concerned for your support.

Residents are in support of relief

EDITOR — I must respond to David Simpson's recent star letter in Pulman's View.

The traffic and highways of the Lower Axe are not just Axmouth's problem, there are three other alternative routes into Seaton, all linked by the A3052 through Colyford.

However, Devon County Council (DCC) Highways' view is that these routes are not suitable alternatives and the DCC HATOC committee refused an application for a permanent weight restriction through Axmouth.

The committee also resolved that consideration be given to looking at a bypass for Axmouth.

So, I agree "EDDC and Tesco have caused the problem and must sort it out".

There is now a last chance —

Tesco want East Devon District Council (EDDC) to approve their Construction, Environment and Management Plan (CEMP). EDDC has the opportunity to put a hold on this construction and ensure the options are fully considered.

What of the "options are plenty"? A third of Axmouth residents are in favour of a relief road — see the Axmouth Parish Plan questionnaire results, it does not even get a mention in the parish plan document.

This option and any other practicable options need very urgent study by EDDC, DCC, Tesco and the local communities, a plan for access to Seaton to cover not only this construction phase but the long term future is vital.

Alan Davis
Colyford

Tesco is not regeneration

EDITOR — Here we go again; someone writes to Pulman's View telling us that Tesco will "regenerate" Seaton but yet again like all his fellow Tesco apologists Dave Sherman omits to tell us how.

How does the presence of a supermarket regenerate a town?

Tesco may well build themselves a nice new store but what about the rest of the site?

I suspect that it will degenerate very rapidly into an eyesore.

In fact the biggest eyesore has long been the old Rascal site and this is entirely down to the intransigence of EDDC.

Clearly Mr Sherman has failed to understand my point so I will repeat it, just because we are opposed to Tesco does not mean we are opposed to change.

Seaton desperately needs regeneration, Tesco is not it.

OUT & ABOUT

● AXMINSTER will be celebrating the Royal Wedding on Friday, April 29th with a street party.

The event will run from 3.30pm to 6.30pm on Silver Street, Axminster, and admission will be free.

There will be live music, children's entertainers and a raffle to raise funds for seating for the Minster Green.

There is a red, white and blue dress code and people are asked to bring a picnic, or alternatively food will be available to buy from the Conservative Club.

Tables at the street party can be reserved in advance by calling Jill on 01297 34444 or on the day.

● ROYAL Horticultural Society silver medallist and local girl Naomi Lawrence will talk about using design to make the most of your garden, whatever its size, at Musbury Garden Club.

Naomi's particular passion is all round year colour and attracting wildlife into a garden.

She is also interested in historical gardens and restoration, and enjoys designing a garden to complement the age of a house.

The meeting is on Monday, May 9th in Musbury Village Hall's committee room, starting at 7.30pm.

Entry is £1.50 for members and £2.50 for non-Members.

● UPLYME Pre-school is holding a new and nearly-new sale on Saturday, May 21st between 2pm and 4pm.

Tables can be booked for £10, including hanging space, by calling Claire on 01297 444303 or Charlotte on 01297 444780.

Plastered art

CAROLYN Kardia will be exhibiting her work in the David West Gallery at the Town Mill, Lyme Regis, from April 30th to June 5th.

The exhibition will include a sculptural installation made in situ using plaster and recent paintings and drawings.

Her three-dimensional work in white plaster and her paintings form a stark contrast in that many of her paintings are explosions of colour.

In reality her work in both mediums is often fundamentally a dialogue between her and the architectural space in which she is exhibiting.

Carolyn first exhibited at the Town Mill when it was being restored in 1998 by David West and David was responsible for the vision of establishing a new, and very welcome venue for serious artists in Dorset.

The buildings' original purpose and connections with the past were more apparent then.

At that time the crumbling brick work and textures resonated with the past.

It will be interesting to see how her new work reflects her response to the building now that it has become an established venue for displaying art and an attractive meeting place, with a restaurant and craft gallery.

The building's architecture is basically the same but the function, time and her response may have changed.

The plaster installation will be created in the week preceding the opening of the new exhibition and the process will be on going for at least a further week – providing a fascinating experience for visitors. Working with plaster means that her installations are fragile and usually have a limited life span; they evolve as the dialogue between her, the sculpture and the space within which they inhabit develops.

Painting became a central part of her practice once she began working in colour. Carolyn is a superb colourist and sometimes her works do have a reference but she said: "The colours aim to speak for themselves, to be disassociated from their method of application and soar above themselves, but equally they are rooted in the materiality of pigment and surface."

Carolyn will also be giving a talk in the gallery on Sunday, May 15th starting at 12 noon.

She will discuss the plaster installation she has created and look at ways of interpreting the dialogue between the sculpted forms and the paintings and drawings on display.

She will make reference to an earlier work in 1998 when she created a series of sculptures in the Town Mill prior to its completed renovation.

She is interested in talking about the process of her work and how it is adapted to specific environments and exhibition spaces.

● PAMELA and Peter Miller of Seaton are offering the public another chance to enjoy the garden of their 1928 house at Hill Grove, 18 Marlpit Lane, for the benefit of Alzheimer's Society.

The garden will be open on Friday and Saturday May 13th and 14th between 2pm and 5pm, with parking space for the disabled.

Originally part of the Ryalls Court Estate, the double plot has been developed over 80 years as a typical country garden situated within ten minutes walk from the town centre. It surrounds an attractive 1928 house with arched windows beneath leaded lights.

The garden has a small croquet lawn to the south, surrounded by colour in foliage, rhododendron blossom, magnolia, eucrythia and herbaceous borders. A side lawn introduces a golden theme with catalpa, dawn redwood, euonymus, honeysuckle and maples.

The soil supports seven different varieties of maple and resplendent azaleas and rhododendrons, one of which – Mrs. Leak – is named after the grandmother of a resident in nearby Durley Road.

Outside the greenhouse, housing an oleander, tbochina and bourgainvillea, there are plants at bargain prices.

Devon cream teas will be served from the summerhouse by the patio.

Adding to a relaxed ambience within the grounds will be music group Shade, comprising clarinettist John Seward and percussionist Clive Wormleighton.

The gardens are open without charge from 2 pm to 5 pm each day and any donations to Alzheimer's Society that visitors would like to give will be warmly welcomed.

Jeremy Hughes, Chief Executive at Alzheimer's Society, said: 'We are delighted that Pamela and Peter are offering their time to support Alzheimer's Society. One in three people over 65 will die with dementia.'

"As a charity, we rely on the generosity of individuals like Mr and Mrs Miller to help us continue our vital work. Please back Pamela and Peter in their fundraising efforts so that Alzheimer's Society can continue leading the fight against dementia."

FILM

Twilight's red moon

DIRECTOR Catherine Hardwicke, who brought the first Twilight film to the screen, slavishly follows the same template in her reworking of the classic fairytale, written for the screen by David Johnson.

Thus we have a beautiful heroine torn between two potential suitors, one of whom might be a werewolf, the other a brooding Brit; Billy Burke in a thankless supporting role as her protective father; sweeping aerial shots of lush forests; and a rock soundtrack to underscore the lingering glances and angst of the protagonists.

If Red Riding Hood didn't pander to the 12A certificate, complete with a chaste fumble in the hay barn, there is potential here for a bloody horror story.

Valerie lives with her father Cesaire, mother Suzette and older sister in a village plagued by a werewolf.

Every full moon, the locals tether a pig to a stake as a sacrifice and lock their doors.

Away from the bloodshed, Valerie is in love with best friend Peter but must marry Henry Lazar, whose family fortune provides the best chance of a rosy future.

When the beast claims the life of Valerie's sister under a blood red moon, renowned werewolf hunter Father Solomon vows to unmask the lycanthrope in their midst.

Red Riding Hood uses the familiar story as a hook for a predictable menage a trois.

Employing logic, the identity of the werewolf is evident before the big reveal, when Valerie must mature from damsel in distress to architect of her own fate.

We're not so strong-willed and snort with derision into our popcorn.

SPRING PROPERTY MARKET UPDATE FROM LAWRENCE RESIDENTIAL

Tim Bennett is one of the Directors of Lawrence Residential, the innovative independent firm of estate agents who have been steadily building a strong business despite tough times over the last 3 years. Tim has over 24 years experience in estate agency gives his view on the local property market in East Devon.

"The market has certainly experienced some challenging times recently with uncertainty in so many areas of the economy having a knock on effect to buyers' confidence. However as we started 2011 early signs have been encouraging with buyers returning to the market with steady levels of sales in January, February and March. This has been helped by a fairly neutral budget that did not reveal anything too awful either so at the moment the property market feels a little brighter than it has done in past months."

One of the obstacles some buyers have to face is getting a mortgage and with many banks and building societies' taking a cautious view on lending this is not as easy or quick as it used to be. As a result we have seen a number of sales where family members have stepped in to provide a private mortgage allowing the sale to proceed without delay.

Buyers can see this is a good time to purchase and have been able to take advantage by getting assistance from within their family. April onwards should progress to be the best time of year to sell and I would certainly encourage anyone thinking of moving to make the most of the better weather and increasing number of active buyers that will come to the market over the coming months. We would be delighted to help with any aspect regarding the sale of your home, so please feel free to call me any day of the week on 01297 22186 or email us at sales@lawrenceresidential.co.uk".

A black and white photograph of a desk lamp with a long, adjustable arm. The lamp is positioned on the left side of the frame, and its adjustable arm is extended towards the right. A bright beam of light emanates from the lamp's shade, shining down onto a stylized, three-dimensional house model on the right side of the frame. The house is a simple, boxy structure with a chimney on the roof. The background is dark, making the lamp and the house stand out. The overall composition suggests that the property being advertised is the 'spotlight' of the advertisement.

IN the past, if you wanted an affordable runabout you had to compromise; refinement, cabin quality, performance and equipment levels were never great.

Recently things have started to change for the better. Factor in buyers downsizing and it's good to see manufacturers upping their game.

Some have responded more quickly than others, with Korean firm Kia surprising industry observers with its all new Picanto. The outgoing car has been a huge success, but it remains a genuine budget car — there's a big step from this to Kia's family hatch C'eed, for instance.

Not anymore, as the company has delivered a new Picanto boasting greater levels of refinement, a more dynamic on-road performance, improved cabin and boot space, family car-levels of safety kit and economy and emissions low enough to rival anything with a Bluemotion badge. Essentially this latest generation Picanto is a mature and sophisticated interpretation of the classic city car. It's still small enough to drive around town and slot into those impossibly small parking spaces, but now it has the ride and handling qualities of something much bigger.

At the Picanto's core is a duo of small capacity petrol engines and impressive headline economy and emissions figures. UK buyers will get a choice of 1.0-litre and 1.2-litre units with a five-speed manual gearbox and the option of a four-speed auto.

In practice the 1.0-litre Picanto will surprise many with its ability to keep pace with traffic, hold its own at motorway speeds and tackle corners with the maturity of something produced closer to home.

What's most impressive is that three-cylinder motor. A willing performer that never becomes raucous even when pushed hard, its flexible nature ensures smooth progress at urban speeds and there's always enough in reserve for the occasional traffic light grand prix and out of town adventure.

For a small car Kia's Picanto makes a big impression. And while that's partly down to its looks, on closer inspection you'll see a mature city car with the ability to travel much further than just to the shops and back.

Bang up-to-date in terms of kit and performance, emissions and economy couldn't be better.

Kia Picanto is up-to-date

Small in name only

MINI has proved that it may be small in name but that it's also big in aspiration with the launch of its 2011 John Cooper Works World Rally challenger.

The countryman-based car is set to bring the Mini name back to front-line rallying and the WRC Team will compete in six rounds of this season's championship before making a full tilt at the title next season. The team's first appearance this year will be at next month's Rally d'Italia in Sardinia following final tests of the new car in Spain and Britain.

The Prodrive built John Cooper Works rally car was unveiled in a recent launch event at the Mini Plant in Oxford by drivers Kris Meeke and Dani Sordo. The event celebrated Mini's rich heritage in the sport and Paddy Hopkirk, Timo Makinen and Rauno Aaltonen who all won the Monte Carlo Rally in the classic Mini Cooper in the 1960s were in attendance.

Prodrive boss David Richards, a former team principal of the BAR and Benetton Formula One teams is enthused about bringing Mini back to WRC and hopes this newest incarnation can prove to be every bit as successful.

■ Value-brand Chevrolet has topped a survey of car reliability, according to new research.

Warranty Direct's Reliability Index analyses both the frequency of failure and also the cost of repair to customers' cars, and currently Chevrolet is leading the pack with a score of just 20.00 — the lower the score, the better the reliability and lower the cost. Honda's score stands at 30.00.

Furthermore, Chevrolet also tops the charts for repair costs — at £195.14 per repair claim, Chevrolet beats its nearest rival, Fiat, by over £40. To make it a hat trick, Chevrolet also claims the lowest 'time-off-the-road' in terms of repairs, with an average of 1.41 days per claim to repair. Second placed Suzuki's score is 1.67.

Chevrolet — a keen supporter of and fully subscribed member to Motor Codes, the UK car industry's self-regulating commitment to fair practice and good customer service — was also the first brand to offer a fully comprehensive five-year aftercare package to its customers. The Five-Year Promise, introduced in 2010, not only offers a warranty, but also roadside assistance, servicing, MoT insurance and vehicle health checks over the period. Proof, if it were needed, that Chevrolet believed in its cars' dependability.

Warranty Direct's managing director, Duncan McClure-Fisher, said: "Honda has held the top spot in our overall manufacturer's reliability table for many months, so for Chevrolet to knock them off their perch is a major coup. You have to bear in mind that we do not hold as many policies on Chevrolets as Honda models but, nevertheless, the data we do have clearly shows that Chevrolets are trustworthy vehicles."

His comments are echoed by Chevrolet UK managing director, Mark Terry, who added: "It's a real testimonial to the quality and reliability of our vehicles that we're leading the Reliability Index. But more than that, the finer data such as time of repair and average repair costs goes to show that our passion for providing customers with real-world value goes beyond the initial purchase of the car. Our dealers are clearly making an effort to minimise the disruption of any repairs to our customers, and helping them keep their cost down at a time when we're all watching our pennies."

■ Car giant Honda is to halve production at its UK factory from next week until the end of May because of a shortage of parts from Japan.

The 3,000 workers at the plant in Swindon, Wiltshire, will remain on full pay, and the move will lead to 22,500 fewer cars being built, although Honda said it will make up the production by the end of the financial year.

Most parts for the three models built in Swindon are sourced in Europe, but a number of parts continue to be supplied from Japan, which is still recovering from the devastating earthquake and tsunami.

The interruption of supply of these parts will now have an impact on production in the UK, said Honda, which added in a statement: "Production volume will continue at approximately 50 per cent of the planned weekly level from April 11.

"By taking this action, Honda of the UK Manufacturing (HUM) will be able to continue production by utilising HUM's flexible working policy. Pay is maintained for all associates."

DEVON AND EXETER LEAGUE

SEATON Town are on course for their first ever Premier title after they battered St Martins 7-1.

The seaisiders were 6-0 ahead at the break easing up in the second half with the game well under control. Double strikes from Dan Norman and Josh French with singles from Alex Wheatley, Jack Lamb-Wilson and Ritchie Durrant floored the Saints although they did have a better second half and managed a consolation from Jack Towill.

Beer Albion eased their relegation worries with a 1-0 win at struggling Alphington, and that has set the fishermen up for Easter Mondays huge derby game at leaders Seaton.

With Division One leaders Morchard Bishop not in action, second place Barnstaple Town closed the gap with a 2-0 win against Feniton although they left it late. Craig Sandle and manager Keith Shapland scored the goals in the last 15 minutes.

Honiton Town beaten in midweek at Feniton recovered some ground after they won 2-0 at home to Chagford. Sid Mackay and Dan Broom scored the Honiton goals.

Colyton beat a very strong Axminster Town 1-0 thanks to a late Callum Somers goal.

Bickleigh stay top of Division Four after they beat Hemyock 2-0.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP

AN IMPRESSIVE CUP
DOUBLE FOR CREW

But team suffers a setback in Division Three title bid

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

CREWKERNE Town Reserves completed an impressive cup double after adding the Bill Bailey Cup to the Facey Cup — but suffered a setback in their bid to add the Division Three title.

Goals from Dave John and Adam Swinnerton were enough to see off Misterton Reserves in the final of the Bill Bailey competition on Thursday, a victory which manager Ben Cox said the side fully deserved.

"It was a very solid and comfortable victory," said Cox. "Unfortunately we suffered a real cup hangover on Saturday when we lost 5-2 to Drimpton on Saturday.

"That was a real setback in terms of us winning the title and we are relying on other teams helping us out but the priority was always promotion and we are now certain of second place."

Misterton Reserves now hold the advantage in the race for the league. They still trail Crewkerne by two points but have three games in hand so have a great chance to avenge their recent cup defeat.

In the Challenge Cup final held on Good Friday Combe St Nicholas Reserves pulled off a surprise 2-1 win over Beaminster with strikes from Dan O'Connor and Matt Brown.

"I think our lads wanted it more," said Combe boss Ashley Fussell, who is only 23 and in his first season as reserve team boss.

"We now have two league games left and we need to make sure we do enough to stay up."

In Division One Winsham improved their promotion hopes with a 5-1 victory against Ilminster Colts with a superb hat-trick from Tom Stead and further strikes from Joe Simmons and Stuart Richards.

In the Premier Division Farway United manager Andy Bailey hailed his side's 5-0 win over Merriott Rovers as one of their best displays of the season.

"That was unquestionably our best all round performance," said Bailey.

Goals came from Ben Williams (two), James Salter, Scott Burrough and teenager Matt Reed, whose father and grandfather both played for the club.

It was a day of big scores in the Premier with league leaders South Petherton firing 10 past luckless Misterton and closest rivals Lyme Regis beating Ilminster Reserves 8-0 with doubles from Adam Caddy, Harry Brimmcombe and Mark Bailey and further strikes from Joe Bond and Rob Thompson.

"We have to hope that South Petherton slip up against Farway on May 3rd if we are to have any hope of winning the title," said Lyme manager Robin Townsend.

go and whether it wants to compete in this division."

That is a conversation that Otters manager Dane Bunney has also said is essential in his club if they want to progress and avoid another season of struggle.

He'll be disappointed by the result after the excellent win over Teignmouth the previous week but it took a freak goal to deny them a share of the spoils.

Axminster defender Leo Maguire was deep in his own half when he launched the ball hopefully up field but the Otters keeper Terry Pelley mis-judged the flight of the ball and on the hard surface it bounced agonisingly over his head and into the empty net.

The 72nd minute winner came just after a long delay in the game when Jack Andrews had to be taken to hospital with a bad knee injury.

"His knee popped out and the boy was in a lot of pain," added Ogden.

On Saturday the Tigers wind up their season away to runaway champions Liverton Utd, a side that has lost just once all season.

"We are going there to spoil the party," said Ogden. Now that would definitely help look good on his CV.

AXMINSTER manager Nick Ogden did his prospects of keeping hold of the Tigers job no harm with this hard-fought victory over their local Devon rivals.

The club have said they are going to advertise the position at the end of the season having handed Ogden the reigns following the departure of James Bennett midway through the season.

Ogden couldn't prevent the Tigers from finishing bottom of the table but has restored some pride to the club and is keen to take on the job on a permanent basis.

"Initially I was asked to take the job until the end of the season and I gather they are now going to advertise the position," said Ogden.

"I am happy to apply for it but the club needs to decide where it wants to

RISE FALLS

Millwey loses promotion chances as Crewkerne Town jump up a division

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

*Perry Street League
Division One
Millwey Rise 0
Crewkerne Town 4*

CREWKERNE Town celebrated their return to the Premier Division in style with an impressive victory over their nearest rivals.

Just a year after suffering the bitter disappointment of relegation from the top flight manager Nick Murphy's side have bounced back in the best way possible, securing not just promotion but also the Division One title.

"Even if we lose our last two games we are champions now because no-one can catch us," said Murphy.

"The priority was always to go straight back up and the bonus is to do that as champions. The guys have had a fantastic season."

The game was deadlocked at half-time with Millwey having enjoyed more possession but the loss of skipper and central defender Matty Hall, forcing Millwey manager Shane Featherstone into a hasty re-organisation, tipped the balance towards the visitors and goals from Kev Wheeler, Barry Hayne, Adam Dawe and Pete Lemmey secured victory.

If defeat wasn't bad enough Millwey then learned that they had also slipped out of the second promotion spot after Winsham had beaten Ilminster Colts 5-1 and they now face the cruel prospect of missing out on also going up.

Indeed, with Winsham at home to bottom side Charmouth in their final league game next weekend and Millwey away to Netherbury the advantage has now swung away from Featherstone's side.

"I think Winsham will beat Charmouth and we will beat Netherbury so that won't be enough for us," said Featherstone.

"But I reminded the lads that this is our first season in Division One after winning promotion last year and I am proud of the way they have performed. We are making progress and the club is moving forward.

"If someone had told me at the start of the season that we would be involved in the race for promotion going into the final two games I would have snapped their hand off. We have to stay positive after what we have achieved."
